

EXCESS PROFIT TAX BILL GOES TO COMMITTEE

Conferees Must Compromise Differences Between Senate and House.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Poles apart on the terms of excess profit tax legislation, house and senate today turned over to a joint committee the task of compromising their differences.

Leaders conceded that the job would be difficult, for by the time the senate gave the legislation its 46 to 22 approval late yesterday, it had drastically changed the measure from the form in which it passed the house.

Moreover, the senate tacked on a rider for the purpose of boosting individual income and corporation taxes sharply upward in time of war.

One of the major changes made by the senate was the provision adding a flat 3.1 per cent to normal corporation tax rates, thus increasing the present 20.9 per cent to a 24 per cent levy for corporations earning more than $25,000 a year. An equal percentage was added to the rates paid by smaller corporations.

The senate also revised the method adopted by the house for computing excess profits and for applying the excess profits tax rate. The tax would range from 25 to 50 per cent.

OK Profit Limits
Both approved suspension of existing profit limitations on government contracts for warships and airplanes.

Both likewise voted to permit corporations to charge off against earnings over a five-year period the cost of manufacturing facilities completed since Jan. 1, to meet the demands of defense contracts.

The final vote on the bill was chiefly along party lines, with Senator Townsend (Del.), the lone Republican supporting the measure, and only five Democrats voting against it. Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, voted "no." Sen. Vic Donahey, Ohio Democrat, was not listed as voting.

Before final passage the senate rejected a 46 to 30, the controversial amendment to make income from future federal, state and local bond issues subject to taxation.

Just before passing the bill the chamber adopted an amendment by Senator Connally, Democrat of Texas, to set up a schedule of income tax rates, effective in time of war only, ranging up to 80 per cent on highest-bracket taxpayers.

The normal tax for two individuals in time of war would be fixed at 10 per cent and that of the present 4 per cent and that of corporations at 35 per cent.

Corporations would be required to pay a war tax of up to 60 per cent on profits in excess of 5 per cent. There would be a specific exemption of $5,000.

Under the peacetime excess profits levy a corporation would determine the amount to be taxed as excess profits in one of two ways. It could take the amount in excess of average earnings for the four-year period 1936 through 1939, plus an additional exemption of $10,000; or determine the excess as the amount over an 8 per cent return on invested capital and an added exemption of $8,000.

Excess Profits Change
At the last minute the senate agreed to an amendment by Senator George, Democrat of Georgia, which would change the manner in which the excess-profits tax would be applied.

Both senate and house had approved graduated rates depending on the dollar amount of excess earnings. Under the Georgia amendment, the brackets would vary both according to the dollar amount and according to the percentage that amount represented of the taxpayer's average earnings or return on invested capital.

Dr. Joseph Stokes, Jr., professor of pediatrics at the University of Pennsylvania, announces the development of a vaccine against measles. Only two of the 43 vaccinated contracted the disease. Twenty others, not vaccinated, all contracted measles. (International News photo).

INDICTED IN STOCK SALES

Marionite Charged with Selling Unregistered Shares of Gold Stock.

A Marion man is one of two whose secret indictments were reported today by the state securities division at Columbus. In its asserted campaign to eliminate unregistered gold mine stocks from the Ohio market, The Associated Press reported.

He is listed as George E. Reinwald of 307 Belmont street, and is reported in the news dispatch to have accepted service of papers on a Hancock county indictment charging sale of unregistered securities without a license.

The announcement was made by Attorney Inspector Oscar Fleckner, who also said that Earl Pardee of Findlay had agreed to surrender next Thursday on similar charges.

Fleckner said the two were among a group of salesmen who sold approximately $31,000 in stock of the Planet Mining Co. of Livingston, Mont., to residents of Marion, Hancock, Richland and Franklin counties.

Fleckner said he had forwarded to the Marion county prosecutor information similar to that which resulted in the present indictments.

Prosecuting Attorney Paul D. Michel said here today that he and his assistant, Walter D. Moore, had assisted the securities division in its investigation of the cases and that sales in Marion county that have been brought to their attention numbered five and totaled approximately $2,000.

Prosecutor Michel said the matter will not be taken before the forthcoming grand jury, but that he will retain the information in the cases pending the outcome of the Findlay indictments.

$1,640,000 MONTHLY DRAFT BOARD COST

At Least One Paid Clerk for Each Branch.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Preliminary estimates indicated today that $1,640,000 a month would be distributed among local draft boards throughout the country for clerical help in the task of registering and selecting men for compulsory military service.

Along with other plans, financing arrangements for the vast draft effort went forward at full speed, in anticipation of a congressional grant of $2,000,000,000 and the President's order formally setting up a draft administration.

Selective service officials said each of 6,500 local boards would have at least one paid clerk. Allocations for clerical help for the rest of this year were figured tentatively at 10 cents a month for each man registered. The census bureau estimated that 16,404,000 were in the draft age limits of 21 through 35.

While thousands of low-salaried, short-lived jobs will be created by the draft, literally a million men and women will serve in the selective service system without pay.

All members of the local boards, their medical, legal and business advisers and other administrative aids—numbering in all about 200,000—will work for nothing.

In addition, it was estimated that more than 700,000 regular election officials, serving without pay, would be required to enroll the men Oct. 16.

70,000 CHEER WILLKIE TALK IN LOS ANGELES

Candidate Calls for Scientific Revision of Taxes in Los Angeles Speech.

(Picture on Page 5.)

By The Associated Press
ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN
ENROUTE TO SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—After calling for immediate, scientific tax revision and "a chance for business to make a profit," Wendell L. Willkie advocated today the development of American peacetime aviation into a major industry.

In a brief talk prepared for a train audience at Bakersfield, Calif., the Republican presidential nominee said:

"War planes? Yes! We must have them. We should have had them years ago. But great as is that need, the need of future peacetime aviation will be even greater.

"For it is the permanence of peacetime aviation—not the temporary emergency of preparedness—that will bring this nation into its rightful position of leadership in world aviation."

Four-Point Program
Willkie discussed this industry specifically as a follow-up to his address last night in the brilliantly-lit Los Angeles coliseum, where he offered a cheering crowd four steps which he said would "turn this country around" from a totalitarian system. He listed them as follows:

"1. The rules under which business is conducted must be clear and must be stable.

"2. Government policies affecting business should be consistent.

"3. Government competition with business must be kept with well-defined limits and must not stop the flow of capital into new productive enterprise.

"4. Business must be given a chance to make a profit."

In addition, Willkie suggested the creation of a special commission to look into the whole revenue situation.

"This tax structure that the New Deal has erected," he said, "is unscientific, repressive, and loaded with punitive measures. It is unjust and discriminatory. It is driving capital out of productive employment."

70,000 In Audience
The audience, estimated by Inspector J. V. Henry of the sheriff's office at 70,000, applauded, as it did when the nominee said:

"If you people want a completely regulated economy, if you want a totalitarian system of some sort, don't vote for me. 'I'm headed in just the opposite direction.'"

Willkie, wearing shell-rimmed spectacles to read his 30-minute address, appeared tiny as he stood on a low platform at one end of the huge oval structure. The moon beamed brightly in the background, but its glow was dimmed by the floodlights which shone upon the candidate.

Mr. and Mrs. Willkie left at once after the talk for the Hollywood Bowl to greet members of the film colony at a rally. Robert Montgomery, the actor, pulled the nominee from the wings to the microphone on the run.

Willkie, catching his breath pumped Montgomery's hand. Then, standing in front of the blue, yellow and red orchestra shell, he asked:

"How can anybody who lives in Hollywood say there is not opportunity in America? Mary Pickford, Walter O'Keefe and Bob Montgomery are all friends of mine, and I don't think any one of them had a dirty nickel when he began."

Willkie's itinerary took him northward today for campaign talks up to San Francisco. After a major speech there, he will remain until Saturday night and then will go into the northwest.

A tomato barrage enlivened his ride to Los Angeles yesterday afternoon from Long Beach. Youngsters on the outskirts of the city tossed vegetables at cars in the parade, but apparently without scoring a hit.

Willkie touched on labor problems in his speech last night, declaring:

"It is my considered opinion that labor has been the chief sufferer from the policies of New Deal."

"The shifting rules, the inconsistent policies, the threat of government competition, the discouragement of profit, and the fantastic, punitive taxes—all these have been sold to the people of America with a false label marked 'liberalism.' Actually, these practices have curtailed the number of jobs."

"Labor is entitled to the protection of progressive labor legislation, such as the wages and hours law and the national industrial labor relations act. But these laws must be administered in the interests of the whole nation. Their purpose is to reduce industrial strife, not to foment it."

BRITISH REPORT 200 NAZI PLANES ROUTED IN BATTLE

President Says Safety Rests on Free Election

Roosevelt Speaks at University of Pennsylvania After Survey of Defense Works.

By The Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—President Roosevelt asserted today the "complete and enduring safety of our form of government" rests on maintaining free elections—and added that "no dictator in history has ever dared to run the gauntlet" of such an election.

Yet, he said, in an address climaxing observance of the University of Pennsylvania's 200th anniversary, there still were some well meaning persons who had suggested recently that the right to vote be denied people who had lost their jobs and were on relief.

"Only too often in our political history," the President declared, "the few at the top have tried to advise or dictate to the many lower down how they should vote."

Cites Present Trend
"Even today in certain quarters there are, I regret to say, demands for a return of government to the control of those few, who, because of business ability or economic omniscience, are supposed to be just a touch above the average of our citizens."

"As in the days of Hamilton, we of our own generation should give them credit for pure intention and high ideals. Nevertheless, their type of political thinking could easily lead to government by selfish seekers for power and riches and glory."

"As long as periodic free elections survive, no set of people can permanently control government. In the maintenance of free elections rests the complete and enduring safety of our form of government."

No Dictator Dares!
"No dictator in history has ever dared to run the gauntlet of a really free election."

Mr. Roosevelt spoke in Convention hall, with three radio networks carrying his words to the nation. It was an address which the White House said "declined either before or after its delivery to label political or non political."

Listeners were allowed to draw any conclusions they desired.

The Chief Executive, who had made a morning inspection of the big Philadelphia navy yard and said he is now convinced the nation is learning speed in armament construction spoke of current times as a "strange period of relapse in the history of the civilization of the world."

The President said construction of warships and warplanes in the navy yard was going ahead at a much faster rate than a year ago and that he was very much pleased and amazed at the progress he saw there.

The expansion, he said, dates from his order of last September to put about 30 World war destroyers back in shape for duty.

Mr. Roosevelt displayed particular enthusiasm over the naval aircraft factory. He referred to it as his "child" because it was built in 1916 while he was assistant secretary of the navy. The plant represents, he said, the government's first effort to go in for aviation manufacture.

Gels Noddy Ovalion
Thousands of navy yard employees gave him a noddy ovalion. They pressed around his open car as he stopped to see work under way on vessels which will form a vital portion of the projected two-ocean fleet.

In the yard, Mr. Roosevelt saw construction under way on a pair of speedy motor torpedo boats and some World war destroyers which may be part of the 50 being transferred to England.

He showed particular interest in the battleships which comprise the "backbone" of the navy. The great 35,000-ton Washington, with hundreds of workmen yelling a greeting from the decks, he was told, is eight months from completion.

"I saw, too, the newly laid keel of what ultimately will be one of the great fleet destroyers."

New $156,085 Pennsylvania Railway Underpass Dedicated Near Crestline

Special to The Star
CRESTLINE, Sept. 20.—Crestline dedicated its new $156,085 railroad underpass on Route 30-N one mile east of here yesterday in a public program sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

A large crowd heard talks by Mayor George Bricker and John McSwain, candidate for United States senator, and a number of other speakers.

Yesterday's dedication, marked completion of a project begun more than a year ago—in June, 1938—to eliminate a crossing where many accidents have occurred. Actual construction work was finished Sept. 1.

Federal Aid Project
The project was sponsored by the federal and state governments and the Pennsylvania railroad.

The contractor was George B. Herring & Son of Mansfield, who received the contract at a bid of $121,749. Other expenses including maintenance of the detour, railroad work and engineering, boosted the total to $156,085.

Yesterday's program at 4:30 p. m. was preceded by a parade led by the High School band to the site of the improvement. The contractor presented the improvement to the state highway department and Murray D. Shaffer, chief engineer of the highway department spoke.

Others on the program were J. J. Heier of the highway division of bridges and overpasses, Frank Kopley of Bucyrus, Lincoln Highway council, who cut the ribbon formally opening the underpass to traffic.

The program was followed by a social hour at the Crestline Club.

BERLIN CLAIMS NEW HITS ON WAR TARGETS

Six British Planes Shot Down in Morning Raids, Nazis Say.

By The Associated Press
BERLIN, Sept. 20.—German raiders attacked London before noon today and in developing dog-fights six British planes were shot down and new military objectives were hit, informed German sources reported.

With the return of good weather, these informants said, the German Luftwaffe returned again to the attack, bombing facilities of the southern railway between Bernersdorf station and South Berlin station. A number of hits were reported.

Six hundred Germans have been killed and 1,400 wounded by British aerial bombardments since the start of the war, informed sources estimated as new bombings of some of Germany's most cherished towns were reported.

Heidelberg, picturesque university town on the banks of the Neckar, only 12 miles from the communications center of Mannheim, was raided this morning, these sources said, and three persons killed.

Seven others were killed in other western and southwestern German cities, particularly in the Rhineland, it was reported, and new batches of phosphorus incendiary "leaves," as well as bombs were scattered.

The high command said "several" British planes made the raids.

Press Threats Continue
While the press continued to threaten to "settle accounts with the British mercilessly," the high command's communique said "battles" planes continued to follow raids on London and war essential objectives in western and central England.

"Numerous new fires resulted, especially in Liverpool," the communique added.

But bad weather interfered with operations, and only one British plane was claimed to have been shot down. Three German planes were acknowledged to be missing.

Yesterday's plane trail was placed at nine British craft and four German in air fighting limited by bad weather.

Axle attention was focused sharply on Egypt as German quarters urged the land of the Pharaohs to "throw off the British yoke" and fell in step with the new order in Europe which, it was said, Germany and Italy now plan to extend to Africa.

Egypt was advised through (Turn to BERLIN, Page 10)

TRAVELERS TELL OF HEAVY NAZI LOSSES

British Sink Barges Used for Practice Landings.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Stories of heavy German troop losses resulting from exercises and maneuvers in the English channel preparatory to an invasion attempt were told today by passengers arriving on the American Export liner Exeter.

Almost identical stories were brought by Robert Solberg, vice president of Armco International Corp., who left France Aug. 25, after 20 years in Paris, and Carl Ter. Weele, a Dutch radio executive, who left The Netherlands Aug. 27.

They agreed that the Dutch and French were supplying the British with advance information of German exercises in the channel, and that British bombers had taken a heavy toll.

Solberg said he had definite information that the Germans had attempted no actual invasion of England. The channel exercises, he related, consisted of sending troops about two miles out in the channel on self-propelled barges and then turning about to make practice landings on the French coast.

He said the British, tipped off by the Dutch and French, waited for the barges with planes and submarines and that "thousands of Germans have been lost in this fashion."

Solberg said he recently visited a French channel port where bodies of German troops were washed ashore daily.

WOESSNER IS FOUND GUILTY

Fremont Murder Trial Jury Returns Verdict Against Former Crestline Man.

A sentence of life imprisonment in Ohio penitentiary confronted Alpha (Red) Woessner, 31-year-old former Crestline resident, who late yesterday was convicted on a second degree murder charge at Fremont in connection with the death of Walter Snyder, 23, Fremont sugar refinery worker. The Associated Press reported.

After deliberating an hour and a half, a jury of seven men and five women returned the verdict making life imprisonment mandatory.

Snyder's body was found in the Sandusky river near Fremont last Dec. 7 following his disappearance Oct. 31. During the investigation that followed officials reported they were told Woessner and Snyder became engaged in a fight at the rear of a Fremont tavern the night of Oct. 31, following a dispute over a job calling windows which Snyder accused Woessner of taking from him.

By the time this information was uncovered, Snyder had given up his steep-slope job in Fremont and had enlisted as a private in the U. S. army. Officials brought him back to Fremont from Fort Sheridan, Ill., and after several days questioning he is reported to have confessed hitting Snyder and "leaving him for dead" in the fight back of the tavern. No explanation has ever been given as to how the body got into the river.

As the trial closed yesterday, Woessner and Snyder had witnesses attempted to establish an alibi that Woessner was in a gasoline station near his home the night of Oct. 31.

During the trial the state introduced testimony designed to show that Woessner and Snyder had quarreled frequently and that Woessner had threatened to "get" Snyder over the affections of a married woman. Coroner D. W. Philo of Sandusky county and Dr. F. M. Teeple of Fremont testified that Snyder died from a blow on the head.

Woessner is a native of Crestline and lived there until going to Fremont several years ago.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY SET NEAR MEEKER

Davey and Others Scheduled for Talk Sunday.

Plans were nearing completion today for a Democratic "jam-boree" and rally to be held Sunday at the Rally Ann (Blow Inn) grove at Routes 30 and 27, 14 miles west of here beyond Meeker.

Former Gov. Davey, seeking election as governor, and John McSwain, candidate for United States senator, will be the main speakers. Kenneth M. Fair of Callon, candidate for Eighth district congressman, and Wm. R. Gump of Upper Sandusky, speaking the Thirteenth Third-class state senatorial post, will also attend.

The program will begin at 1 o'clock. Davey is scheduled to speak in the afternoon.

Sponsoring the rally is a district affair in the LaRue Democratic club.

FIGHT FOLLOWS ALL NIGHT RAID OVER ISLANDS

Attackers Reported To Have Fled in Disorder from British Planes.

By The Associated Press
LONDON, Sept. 20.—British fighters repulsed more than 100 German planes in a battle over the southeast coast this morning. The raiders were seen racing in disorder toward the French coast, British sources reported today, following night-long Nazi raids on London and heavy RAF counter-blows against German inland continental bases and "invasion ports."

The authoritative British press association said British fighters hidden in the clouds waiting for the Germans, pounced on them as they reached the Kent coast and a free-for-all followed.

The press association's correspondent, describing the battle, said the raiders were driven tentatively back eastward and the fight continued over the sea.

Later a formation of Hurricanes and Spitfires came, flying home to the shores of watchers below.

Near Dover, one German fighter spun out of the sky trailing smoke and crashed in hills near the channel port.

German raiders also appeared over London and the Thames estuary during the morning.

Londoners warned to air raid shelters when the attackers appeared emerged again shortly after noon when it was believed the danger had passed.

Ali-planet batteries kept up a thunderous barrage against the estuary raiders until British fighters appeared to the attack.

British bombers, striking at German bases while the Nazis were subjecting London to its 13th consecutive all-night attack, blasted the Dortmund-Ems canal and other vital communications in Germany proper and a number of ports and airfields in German-occupied territory, the air ministry announced.

Recurring daylight raids, nine German planes roared through the clouds over the London area, but dropped only two bombs. Additional raiders appeared simultaneously over a southeast inland town.

Later rooftop observers heard the drone of planes over the capital, but they were flying too high to tell whether they were British or German.

One explosion was heard during the morning in London but it may have been a time bomb dropped in last night's raid, described officially as "on a smaller scale and less effective than of late."

London again was the main objective of the night attacks, but bombs also were dumped in Lancashire, Essex, Surrey, Berkshire, Kent, the Midlands and southwest England.

Dive Bombers at Work
A formation of dive bombers capped the night attacks with a violent assault on the northwest and east sectors of London just before dawn while British bombers renewed their blasting of Nazi-held ports along the French coast and other objectives in Germany.

Thick, low-hanging clouds and a heavy anti-aircraft barrage lessened the blows of Nazi raiders until after midnight, when the moon broke through to light the way for the dive bombers.

By comparison with previous nights, the raid was considered fairly light.

A rainstorm swept the straits of Dover, pathway for a threatened German invasion, during the night and a southwest gale lashed the sea against Dover's chalk cliffs, but the wind subsided this morning. The sea was reported calmer and visibility was clear, especially during sunny intervals.

Watchers at Dover reported that for a time the entire coastal area from Calais to Boulogne appeared to be a huge sheet of flame after RAF raiders flew over.

(Some observers have predicted Adolf Hitler might attempt an invasion before the autumn equinox—Sept. 23—Sunday night—which usually signals full storms that would increase the difficulties of transporting troops across the channel.)

A bomb struck the escape hatch of a public shelter in north London and "some" persons were reported killed and injured last night.

Egyptian Desert Tough Foes for Italy's Invaders

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

They say truly who claim that the desert offers its own defense against intrusion by man, and the British are taking full advantage of this fact in dealing with Mussolini's invasion of their Egyptian stronghold across the death-sands of the Sahara.

Pastor Marshal Graziani—hard-boiled veteran of desert warfare—has thrust his columns more than 60 miles inside the Egyptian border from Libya along the Mediterranean coast without much opposition from enemy infantry. The wily British have withdrawn their defending forces and let nature battle for them.

That is an important point to keep in mind in considering the rapidity of the Italian advance. Without detracting from Graziani's achievement it must be said it isn't the result of a victory at arms but his chief significance is that it represents a really striking feat of flight the invaders got from the desert, too. They marched across the blistering sands for eight days—150 endless miles—with only about a quart of water per day for each man. The temperature hit 120 degrees. When that failed to halt the march the desert was a sand-dorm into their blistered faces.

True, the British have set to bombing the Fascist columns and communications, and shelling them from warships on the neighboring sea.

The Fascists likely won't encounter Italian opposition until they have ploded another hundred miles from their present headquarters at Sidi Barrani to Matruh. At the latter place is the start of the coastal railway to the great British naval base of Alexandria. The British have an air-base at Matruh and stand there nearest the Italians.

One of Graziani's chief objectives naturally is the Suez Canal, Britain's main imperial artery which lies some 340 miles away across the hot sands. If he can gain control of Egypt and the Suez he will indeed have rendered golden service to the cause of Mussolini and Hitler the axis twins. But can he beat the desert and reach the big ditch?

various channels that her independence would be assured by the axis powers if she does not oppose the present Italian thrust eastward, success of which was confidently predicted.

Turn Eyes on Africa

The sudden emphasis on developments in Africa came as German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop continued conferences in Rome with Premier Mussolini behind a curtain of secrecy.

The idea expressed here in regard to Egypt had received official endorsement in the Rome conference, but inspired interpretation of uninformative Italian communiques left little doubt that Egypt was the center of attention.

The Nazi press warned Egypt to keep in line with developments which, it said, would follow quickly on the expected collapse of the British empire.

(Egypt severed diplomatic relations with Rome some time ago, but thus far has made no move to declare war on Italy, whose troops began a drive across the Egyptian-Libyan frontier a week ago.)

Rome sources have repeatedly asserted that Italy is not making war upon Egypt and that her African offensive is directed solely against Britain.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Lillian and Katherine determined to Guard Madge Against Any Violent Outbreak on the Part of Edith.

"I'M AFRAID SO," I said dependently, with the memory of Edith's emotional outburst freshly before me. "But she's" quiet now. Miss Whitlock gave her something pretty powerful, I imagine, about ten minutes ago. She'll be all right now, I'm sure, at least until we get her downstairs."

I turned to go back to my room, but Lillian put out a swift hand and clutched my arm.

"Look here!" she said militantly. "Does this mean you're going to help Miss Whitlock take Edith downstairs?"

"Of course," I answered, "but I'm sure there isn't the slightest danger. Edith seems in a most tractable mood."

For answer, Lillian took me by the shoulders, and swung me around facing her.

"Look me straight in the eyes!" she commanded, "and tell me, if you dare, that La Fairfax didn't express a yen to see you alone."

Admittedly, "Yes, she did," I admitted reluctantly, and keeping one hand upon my shoulder, she spread the other in a sweeping gesture toward Katherine.

"You see!" she said, then she turned back to me with so pleading a look in her eyes that I felt as if she were gleaning my soul.

"If you only had the gumption to look after yourself the way you" look after other people," she lamented. "But you haven't even a thimbleful of caution where your own safety is concerned, so it's clearly up to Katrina and me to take over."

She paused for breath, then shook a militant fist close to my nose.

"You've expressed my sentiments exactly," Katherine supplemented.

"Do you get us?" Lillian asked me truculently.

"Perfectly," I told her, smiling at her vehemence, "and I shall be most careful."

I twitched my arm away from her grasp, and went down the hall, followed by her raucously whispered caution:

"See that you are!"

All Quiet

But I paused before my door, with a vanishing of the momentary bit of spirit. Lillian's footery and her militant precautions for my safety had given me. I felt for a panic-stricken moment that I could not face again the problem that lay behind that closed door. Then with the remembrance that it was my problem more than that of anyone else, except perhaps Dicky, and that I ought to be ashamed to shift it to any other shoulders, I braced myself to meet whatever should develop, and opening the door, went back into my room.

It was exactly as I had left it. Edith still lay quiescent, with closed eyes, and did not move a muscle at my entrance. Miss Whitlock stood by the bed quietly watching her, and I spoke casually.

"The luggage will be at the door of the study within five minutes of our arrival there," I said, carefully omitting to name the people who would carry it down.

"Good!" she said, and picking up Edith's hose and slippers, went to the side of the bed.

"Don't sit up yet," she said. "Just put your feet out of bed. Mrs. Graham and I will be your maids this morning."

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

Causes, Cures for Deafness

The commonest form of deaf- ness which occurs in middle age is due to a hardening and fixation of the joint surfaces between the little bones in the middle ear. These bones in health form a readily movable hinge attached on the one side to the ear drum and on the other side of the middle ear to the window of the organ of hearing. When the ear drum vibrates in response to sounds, these bones transmit the finest variation of the vibration to the organ of hearing where the nerve endings of the auditory nerve pick them up and trans- form them into sound sensations. Obviously if these bones become fixed so that free play of move- ment is not allowed the hearing will get progressively worse.

This form of deafness is not well understood and has hitherto baffled attempts at complete cure. But of late more improve- ment in handling these cases is evident. Last year we reported on the operation devised by a New York otologist which con- sists of removing the adhesions and bony fixation of the middle ear bones. Within the year I have been privileged to examine a number of patients who had the operation of making an artificial Eustachian tube—an opening into the middle ear which admits air pressure and allows the bones to move freely. These operations have been quite successful.

PRESIDENT IN PHILADELPHIA FOR ADDRESS

Declares Free Elections Best Safeguard of Democracy in U. S.

By The Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 20.—Following is the text of President Roosevelt's address today at ceremonies in observance of the University of Pennsylvania's 200th anniversary.

This is a strange period of re-appearing in the history of the civilization of the world—for in some ways it has become the custom to burn the books of scholars, and to fix by government decree the national forms of religion, morality and culture. In such a time it is more than a mere formality to join with you in celebrating the two hundredth anniversary of this free and independent institution of scholarship. I am honored in becoming an alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania.

The very foundation of this university was concerned with freedom of religious teaching, and with free learning for the many who could not pay for higher education. It was originally proposed as a place where the good and Reverend Doctor George Whitehead might preach his religion without certain difficulties which the old conservatives of Philadelphia threw in his path. Instead, it was desired to make it unnecessary for him to preach in the sun and rain of the open fields, when the doors of the established church were closed against him. And it was the dream of the founders to make it a source of education to the children of the poor who otherwise would be untalented.

The survival and growth of the university through these two centuries are particularly symbolic of the eternal strength which is inherent in the American concept of the freedom of human thought and action. Here is living proof of the validity and force of single-minded service to the cause of truth.

Events in the world are making the vast majority of our citizens think more and more clearly about the manner of the growth of their liberty and freedom, and how hard their people have fought and worked to win and to hold the privilege of free government.

POLITICAL FREEDOM BROUGHT NEW CONFLICTS

With the gaining of our political freedom came the conflict between the point of view of Alexander Hamilton, sincerely believing in the superiority of government by a small group of public-spirited and usually wealthy citizens, and the point of view of Thomas Jefferson, an advocate of government by representatives of all the people, an advocate of the universal right of free thought, free personal living, free religion, free expression of opinion and, above all, the right of free universal suffrage.

Many of the Jeffersonian schools were frank to admit the high motives and disinterestedness of Hamilton and his school. Many Americans of those days were willing to concede that if government could be guaranteed to be kept always at the high level of unselfish service suggested by the Hamiltonians there would be nothing to fear. For the very basis of the Hamiltonian philosophy was that through a system of elections every four years, limited to the votes of the most highly educated and the most successful citizens, the best of those qualified to govern could always be selected.

It was with rare perspicuity, however, that Jefferson pointed out that, on the doctrine of sheer human frailty, the Hamilton theory was bound to develop into government by selfishness or government for personal gain or government by class, which would ultimately lead to the abolishment of free elections. For he recognized that it was our system of free unhampered elections which was the surest guaranty of popular government. So long as the voters of the nation, regardless of higher education or proper possessions, were free to exercise their choice in the polling place without hindrance, the country would have no cause to fear the hand of tyranny.

At all times in our history since Hamilton, there have been many Americans who have sought to confine the ballot to limited groups of people. A quarter of a century ago, President Eliot of Harvard summarized his views when he said to me:

SAFETY COMES ONLY THROUGH FREE ELECTIONS

"Roosevelt, I am convinced that even though we have multiplied our universities in every state of the union, even though higher learning seems to have come into its own, if the ballot were to be confined to the holders of college degrees, the nation would go on the rocks in a very few years."

It may seem ungracious for a very new degree-holder to say this to this audience of older degree-holders, but my authority for this view is a great educator, noted for his efforts to disseminate college education throughout the country.

I agree with him thoroughly in his estimate of the superior ability of the whole of the voters to pass upon political and social issues in free and unhampered elections, as against the exclusive ability of a smaller group of individuals at the top of the social structure.

On candidates and on election issues, I would rather trust the aggregate judgment of all the people in a factory—the president, all the vice-presidents, the board of directors, the managers, the foremen, plus all the laborers—rather than the judgment of the few who may be financially interested. On such questions the aggregate total judgment of a farm owner, the farmer and all the farm hands will be sounder than that of the farm owner alone. I would rather rely on the aggregate opinion, on matters affecting government, of a railroad president, its superintendents, its engineers, foremen, brakemen, conductors, trainmen, telegraphers, porters and all the others, than on the sole opinion of the few in control of management, or the principal stockholders.

Only too often in our political history, the few at the top have tried to advise or dictate to the many lower down how they should vote.

Even today in certain quarters there are, I regret to say, demands for a return of government to the control of those few who, because of business ability or economic omniscience, are supposed to be just a touch above the average of our citizens. As in the days of Hamilton, we of our own generation should give them all credit for pure intention and high ideals. Nevertheless, their type of political thinking could easily lead to government by selfish seekers for power and riches and glory. For the great elite, curtailment or even abolition of free elections might be adopted as the means of keeping them in power.

CITIES DEMAND FOR LIMITED ELECTIONS

I can never forget that some well-meaning people have been recently seriously suggested that the right to vote be denied to American men and women who through no fault of their own had lost their jobs and, in order to keep the family and the home going, were working on works relief projects.

As long as periodic free elections survive, no set of people can permanently control government. In the maintenance of free election rests the complete and enduring safety of our form of government.

No dictator in history has ever dared to run the gauntlet of a really free election.

These fundamental truths have become commonplace among Americans, but it is well constantly to keep them in mind in order to understand what has happened in other lands. A decade ago, for example, the German people despaired of the processes of their democracy, which were based on the free use of the franchise. They were willing to lend ear to a new cult called "Nazism"—a minority group which professed extraordinary patriotism, and offered bread and shelter and better government through the rule of a handful of persons boasting of special aptitude for government. In those days loudly professed emphasis was placed by this special group on their own purity of purpose. Nothing was ever said about abolishing free elections.

You and I know the subsequent history of Germany. The right of free elections and the free choice of heads of government were suddenly wiped out by a new regime, still professing the same purity of purpose. It is a travesty on fact to claim that there is any free choice of public officials in that nation today, or that there ever has been one since 1933.

What Jefferson prophesied might happen in this country if the philosophy of the restricted vote and of government by special class was adopted, did actually happen in Germany before our very eyes.

Many years ago, speaking in San Francisco, I pointed out that new conditions imposed new requirements upon government and upon those who conducted government. As Jefferson wrote a long time ago: "I know also that laws and institutions must go hand in hand with the progress of the human kind... as new discoveries are made, new truths disclosed, and manners and opinions change with the change of circumstances, institutions must advance also, and keep pace with the times."

We must follow that rule today as readily as then, always with the condition that any change in institutions or in economic methods must remain within the same old framework of a freely elected democratic form of government.

I have pointed out many times that western migration and the free use of unoccupied lands have ended with the advent of the industrial age; that with the changes wrought by new inventions of steam and electricity, new relationships have arisen between units of finance and industry on one side and the great mass of workers and small business men on the other; and that certain government controls have become necessary to prevent a few financial and industrial groups from harming or cutting the throats of other groups smaller in size but much greater in number.

NEW TIMES BRING NEW RESPONSIBILITIES

We have at the same time developed new beliefs in governmental responsibilities to humanity as a whole. It is a relatively new thing in American life to consider what the relationships of government are to its starving or unemployed citizens, and to take steps to fulfill its duties to them.

A generation ago people had scarcely given thought to the terms "social security," "minimum wages" or "maximum hours." It is only within recent years that government has given its attention in a serious effective way to the insurance of bank deposits, to soil conservation, relief to farmers and to farm tenants, development of cheap electric water power, reclamation of soil by proper use of water and forests, to the prevention of fraud and deceit in the sale of securities; to the assurance of the principle of collective bargaining by workers in industry; to government assistance to the blind and the handicapped; or to the need of taking care of elderly people without throwing them into the poorhouse.

These are some of the new instruments of social justice which America has forged to meet the new conditions of industry, agriculture, finance and labor—conditions which had been neglected too long and which were beginning to endanger our internal security. These are the means which our generation have adopted to overcome the threats of economic democracy in our land—threats which in other lands led quickly to political despotism.

Benjamin Franklin, to whom this university owes so much, realized too that while basic principles of natural science, of morality, and of the science of society were eternal and immutable, the application of these principles necessarily change with the patterns of living conditions from generation to generation. I am certain that he would insist that it is the whole duty of the philosopher and the educator to apply the eternal ideals of truth and goodness and justice in terms of the present and not of the past. Growth and change are the law of all life. Yesterday's answers are inadequate for today's problems—just as the solutions of today will not fill the needs of tomorrow.

Eternal truths will be neither true nor eternal unless they have fresh meaning for every new social situation.

It is the function of education to provide continuity for our national life—to transmit to youth the best of our culture which has been tested in the fire of history. It is equally the obligation of education to train the minds and the talents of our youth; to improve, through creative citizenship, our American institutions in accord with the requirements of the future.

NEED OF COLLEGES FOR YOUTH CITED

We cannot always build the future for our youth; we can build our youth for the future.

It is in great universities like this that the ideas which can assure our national safety and make tomorrow's history, are being forged and shaped. Civilization owes most to the men and women, known and unknown, whose free, inquiring minds and restless intellects could not be subdued by the power of tyranny.

This is no time for any man to withdraw into some ivory tower and proclaim the right to hold himself aloof from the problems and the agonies of his society. The time calls for bold belief that the world can be changed by man's endeavor. No man can sever the bonds which unite him to his society simply by averting his eyes. He must ever be receptive and sensitive to the new; and have sufficient courage and skill to face novel facts and to deal with them.

If democracy is to survive it is the task of men of thought, as well as men of action, to put aside pride and prejudice, and with courage and single-minded devotion—and above all with humility—to find the truth and teach the truth that shall keep men free.

We may find in that sense of purpose, the personal peace, not of repose, but of effort, the keen satisfaction of doing, the deep feeling of achievement for something far beyond ourselves, the knowledge that we build more gloriously than we know.

The Silver Tea club of St. Paul's Episcopal church opened its season with a dinner meeting last night at the home of the president, Mrs. H. C. Thomas of 940 East Church street.

The year's program was discussed. The club will continue its weekly sewing meetings on Friday at the S. K. Gorham home on South Main street and will have a traveling food basket to raise funds for club work. A rummage sale will be sponsored some time next month.

SINKING OF GERMAN TRANSPORT REPORTED

By The Associated Press
LONDON, Sept. 20.—The British admiralty reported today the torpedo sinking of a 10,000-ton German troop transport in a burst of smoke and flames, adding belated support to reports that nearly all of 4,000 men aboard were lost.

A communique said that the submarine Sturgeon picked the transport out of a naval and plane escort as it poked into the twilight on the arm of the North sea off Denmark on Sept. 2 and fired its torpedoes.

The date given for the attack coincides with that given by Swedish press reports of the torpedoing of a transport, identified as the Marlon, out of Hamburg, in the Kattegat with loss of nearly all of the 4,000 men aboard.

(The German radio subsequently said that the report "did not correspond to the facts," asserting that there was no German transport named Marlon, but that the German transport Pioneer, on regular service between Germany and Norway, "suffered some damage when in the Kattegat but not as result of enemy attack.")

STORY OF LIFE TO BE TOLD BY EVANGELIST

Rev. Lon R. Woodrum, poet-evangelist from Kansas City, will give the first part of his life story, "The Man From the Shadows," tonight at 7:30 at First Church of the Nazarene where he is conducting an evangelistic campaign. Tonight's story will deal with his conversion from the underworld. Saturday night he will give the sequel, "I Follow the Road," telling of experiences since his conversion. Those who attend Saturday night will be given copies of one of his poems, "Lamp Light."

ENTERS HOSPITAL

Gerald Lessig, 20, of 338 Francella avenue, who suffered a fractured left leg in an automobile-truck collision at Five Points, the intersection of Route 30-S and 98, July 12, was admitted to the hospital this morning where he will have his limb placed in a cast. He will be released Saturday, hospital attendants stated.

MAN FINED $25

Paul Hiltchcock of 430 West Center street was arrested by police on West Center street early today on a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct. He pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Hazen this morning and was fined $25 and costs.

COURT RULES IN SCHOOL ACTION

Consolidation of One-Room District Affirmed by Morrow Co. Judge.

Special to The Star
MT. GILEAD, Sept. 20.—In a decision handed down at noon on Thursday, Judge P. H. Wieland of the Morrow county common pleas court upheld the legality of the action of the county board of education in reorganizing the local school districts and eliminating two districts in which one-room schools are in operation.

Judge Wieland held that the members of the Congress and Gilead township boards were without common interest and could not therefore bring a joint action in the court, that the members of these boards did not have the legal capacity to sue, and that the county board of education had proceeded legally under the state laws providing for the creation of new school districts. He also noted that no remonstrances to the action of the board were filed within the legal time limits.

Members of the Congress and Gilead township boards, where seven one-room schools are in operation, had filed the suit to enjoin the county auditor from placing the territory in adjoining consolidated districts as set up by the county board.

Four one-room schools are in operation in Congress and two in the Gilead township district. Members of the boards of these districts, dissolved by the county board in their reorganization set-up, have opened the schools despite the action of the county board and have announced their intention of appealing the decision of the common pleas court to the Fifth district appellate court.

The territory in which the one-room schools in Congress township are located was transferred to the Johnstown, Iberia and Mt. Gilead districts.

Some of the pupils in the territory transferred have been going to the consolidated schools since the beginning of this year.

St. Mary Loses Season's Opening Home Game to Tiffin

Crowd of 1,000 Sees Teams Clash Under Lights; Scoring Comes in Second and Fourth Quarters.

St. Mary's gridiron warriors, playing at Harding stadium before a crowd of about 1,000, dropped their first home game, 20-0, to a pile-driving Tiffin Calvert eleven last night.

The Marion Irish were outplayed, outrushed and generally outplayed by the heavier invading squad. However, Coach Bernard Berens need not feel hurt. Tiffin rolled over Galion, an N. C. O. team and hence supposedly stronger than the smaller schools, by a 30-7 count a week ago.

Calvert began its scoring late in the second quarter with only a minute left before the end of the half. After passing and running the ball to St. Mary's 4-yard stripe, Calvert sent DeRose around his right end for a touchdown. Lee plunged over for the extra point.

Calvert was held scoreless in the third frame, but came back strong in the final period to ring up 13 points.

Highlights of the game:

First quarter—St. Mary won the toss and chose to receive. Daum took Omlar's kick and was downed on his 26. Marion gained five on penalty and Schuler made a first down in two plunges for 8 yards, then went through center for 12 more and another first down. Terzo picked up 4 then lost 3 in a pass attempt. Schuler's kick went out on Tiffin's 16.

Tiffin gained a little, then was set back to its 12 by a 15-yard penalty and kicked to midfield. Marion was soon forced to kick and Schuler booted to the Tiffin 11.

The Irish missed a chance, when Tiffin's fumble was recovered on the 5 by Hernelise. Schuler carried to the 2 1/2-yard stripe and a penalty advanced the ball to the one-yard line. Three more tries failed to put the ball over and Tiffin took possession on its 2.

The quarter had ended just before this exchange. The teams engaged in a kicking duel for the first part of the second period. Finally Calvert got moving, starting from its own 22. A pass took the ball to the 45, then DeRose ran 27 yards to the Irish 28. Another pass took the ball to the 12 and another to the 4-yard-marker, from where DeRose scored.

Second Half

The second half opened with Lee taking Terzo's kick on his 20 and carrying back to his 47. Tiffin soon kicked to St. Mary's 16, but the Irish failed to gain noticeably and punted. Throughout the third frame neither team threatened seriously.

In the fourth, Tiffin started on its 18 and in successive plays fought to the Irish 40. Another long pass was good to the 8. Two more plays put the ball over, with Lee doing the work for the second Tiffin score. Banks plunged for the extra point and the score was Tiffin 14, St. Mary 0.

St. Mary was forced to punt soon after receiving the kickoff and Tiffin marched the ball from its 42 to another touchdown, Lee again making the final dash, jogging 17 yards to tally. A try for the extra point by plunging failed.

Statistical Summary

Statistics show the following: First downs—St. Mary 6, Tiffin 13.

Yards gained by rushing—St. Mary 106, Tiffin 211.

Yards lost by rushing—St. Mary 21, Tiffin 4.

Yards gained by passing—St. Mary 20, Tiffin 55.

Punts—St. Mary 9 for 355 yards; Tiffin 5 for 184.

Punt returns—Average 3 yards for St. Mary, 11 for Tiffin.

SIGNALS! 1-9-4-0

MARION football fans this week join sport-loving Americans throughout the country in welcoming in a new season of the nation's favorite fall game. The above picture, with numerals of two of the players combining to make 1940, is a scene often to be repeated in coming weeks as America's young men go to war—on the playing field.

To both Harding High school's team, which open its season tonight, and to the St. Mary Parochial squad, whose first home game was played last night, go the best wishes of Marion's football followers for successful seasons.

Harding Ready for Opening Game Against Tiffin Tonight

Tilt To Open at 8; Junior Varsity Loses First Contest to Richwood, 14 to 6.

Weakened by graduation and injuries, Harding High school's N. C. O. champs will get a fair idea of what their chances are for a successful season tonight when they open the 1940 campaign at Harding stadium against a powerful Tiffin Columbian squad. The game will start at 8 o'clock, with the teams taking the field for light practice about 7:30. The Tiffin invaders will arrive here about 6:30 by bus, bringing with them an experienced line and a backfield featured by a couple of heavyweight plungers.

Lose to Richwood
Harding's reserve squad opened its season yesterday afternoon at the stadium, taking a 14-6 defeat at the hands of Richwood.

The Presidents' varsity team engaged in a tapering-off drill under the lights last night for an hour preceding the St. Mary-Tiffin Calvert game.

Couch Bill Williams said this morning he is still expecting a tough game with the Columbian lads, who last Friday lost to Bucyrus 10-0.

In the Jayvee-Richwood game yesterday, Harding drew first blood in the second quarter when Richwood lost the ball on their own 37.

63-Yard Run
Jenkins, left half, ran 63 yards for the marker, skirting right end. The attempt for an extra point failed through a penalty.

Richwood waited until the third quarter before making its bid, Truman going over on a line plunge from the 8. Harger kicked the extra point.

In the fourth quarter, after driving Harding down the field, Richwood's Truman scored from the half-yard line and Harger converted for the extra marker.

The summary:
Richwood—14

Four-Day Session To Close Today; Records Fall.

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 20.—Scots Emilee, brown filly owned by Walter Michael of Bucyrus, swept to victory in the $2,500 Elks lodge purse for the two-year-old paces in yesterday's Grand Circuit harness meeting at the Delaware county fairgrounds.

Some of the nation's best horses were poised today for the finale of the four-day meeting which has already seen six new world records for the half-mile track.

The Bucyrus horse yesterday won the first and third heats and was second to Victorious Hal in the second heat.

Three more records were broken yesterday, two of them by Dusty Hanover, seven-year-old bay horse sired by Sandy Flash.

Driven by Vic Fleming, the entry of Sullivan and Mawhinney of Mochias, Maine, covered the first mile heat in 2:00 3/4, a quarter-second faster than the previous record set by Billy Direct.

In the second heat, Dusty Hanover was clocked at 2:00 3/4 to establish a new two-heat half-mile track record for the mile pace. The old mark had lasted since 1934 when Ray Henley, owned by Joe Hager of Xenia, rounded the Ohio State fair track in 2:02 3/4 and 2:02 3/4.

The $2,500 Chamber of Commerce trot brought the three fastest heats ever run by three-year-old trotters on half-mile tracks. Remus, Harry Short's bay stallion, was driven by its Columbus owner to a 2:05 1/4 victory in the first heat. Kuno, the bay colt Futurity winner from the Aiken stables of Aiken, N. C., with Harry Whitney up, streaked around the second heat in a world's record 2:05 and won the third in 2:06 1/4.

FORMER MARION BOY IN WOOSTER'S SQUAD

Ray Hudson Likely To Land Spot with Grid Team.

Ray Hudson, Harding High school graduate and son of former School Superintendent C. A. Hudson, is listed among the leading prospect for starting berths on the line of Wooster college's 1940 grid team. The Associated Press reported today.

Hudson is competing for an end position.

Nineteen players are back from the 1939 squad, which won only two games, and at least 15 promising sophomores are on hand, but the squad is still one of the lightest in years.

Coach Johnny Swigart is stressing deception in prep-ing the Scots' opener Sept. 21 at Manchester (Ind.) college will play an eight-game including six Ohio contests.

Swigart faces his first coach, succeeding L. who retired after 25 years come athletic director.

MARION EAGLES AND SYCAMORE TO CLASH

Benefit Game To Be Played Sunday at 3 P. M.

Marion's Eagles baseball team will meet with the powerful Sycamore Merchants Sunday at 3 o'clock at Lincoln park in another of the series of games to raise funds to pay for the park's new fence. Preliminary softball tilt is scheduled for 1 o'clock.

Sycamore is bringing a record of some 22 wins and one loss to Marion, the single defeat coming at the hands of the Eagles. The Eagles have also lost once to Sycamore.

Information has been received that Cy Seibert of near Upper Sandusky, former umpire in the American Association and Ohio State league, will work in the Sunday game.

The Eagles will be banking on the hitting of Lloyd Detwiler (.308) and Johnny "Pop-up" Marshall (.354). Forbis or Fetter will pitch with Joe Darnell receiving. Stover and Stubbs will form the Sycamore battery.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—Nineteen nationalities are represented on the Notre Dame squad including, strangely enough, a few Irish. Billy Soose, uncrowned midweight king (he beat both champs), will get the Ken Overton-Steve Bellese winner. Sam Spauld and Byron Nelson have been signed for a repeat performance of the P.G.A. golf final at the Bethpage course on Long Island.

The national youth administration organized more than 2,000 boys in baseball leagues in 30 Michigan counties this summer to compete for trophies offered by Babe Ruth, Clark Griffith and Ty Cobb. Biggest thrill Ernie Lombardi has had this season was when he beat out a bunt in Brooklyn the other day.

Tail, Tail Story
This one comes out of the Minnesota - Canadian border country, where they just naturally grow 'em big. When a car crash cut a visiting ball team to seven men, one guy played the outfield, the pitcher accommodated by tossing a fly ball, with only one long fly to bother the lone gardener.

Heads for Louis

Dopesters are telling people to keep an eye on Charley Ketchum, 20, of Endicott, N. Y., pictured above. He started fighting July 14, 1939 and has won 18 of 19 fights, getting a draw in the other. Pat Comiskey is his first big goal, then maybe Joe Louis.

BLUES WIN AGAIN IN ASSOCIATION PLAYOFF

Columbus to Play Louisville Tonight; Bears Win.

By The Associated Press
Kansas City, the American Association pennant winner, was setting the pace today in another tie chase—the Shaughnessy play-offs.

The Blues scored their second straight victory over third place Minneapolis last night, 8 to 6, and now lead the Millers two games to one in the preliminary series.

The other preliminary, involving second place Columbus and fourth place Louisville, will be resumed tonight at Louisville with the clubs all even at one victory each.

By The Associated Press
The Newark Bears have taken three straight from the Jersey City Giants and need only one more victory to advance to the finals where it will meet the winner of the Rochester-Baltimore series to decide the International League's representative in the Little World Series.

The Baltimore Orioles nosed out Rochester 3-2.

Both Win Yesterday's Games; Prepare To Meet Each Other As Yanks and White Sox Drop from Title Race.

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The fantastic American league pennant struggle reached a new crisis today as the Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers came up to their series with each other in an absolute deadlock—85 games won and 81 lost.

St. Louis for the first time it was possible to say positively that the conflict has become a two-club contest with nothing counting but their own mortal combat.

The Chicago White Sox have been mathematically eliminated, not by the standings but by the schedule, and the New York Yankees have been pushed to the very brink for the same reason.

These are the standings today:

Club	W	L	Pct.	GB	TP
Cleveland	85	61	.582	5	8
Detroit	85	61	.582	5	8
New York	80	64	.556	4	10
Chicago	79	67	.541	6	8

(GB means games behind leader, TP means games left to play.)

Ordinarily a club four or six games behind could at least hope for the clubs above to lose all their games. In this case, however, the schedule makes that impossible and the only benefit the Yanks or Sox could get would come from Detroit and Cleveland breaking even against each other.

How It Would Work

That would mean three more games lost for each leader. Cleveland still has two games with the St. Louis Browns and Detroit two with Chicago. If the leaders lost both of these, that would leave them in a tie at the finish with 88 games won and 66 lost. The White Sox already have lost 67 and therefore are eliminated.

If the disaster outlined here should strike both the leaders, the Yankees still would have to win 8 out of 10 games to tie. Such an outcome is so remote that it might as well be dismissed today and let the dead past bury its dead, including the four-times world champion Yankees.

The Tigers are getting too ferocious these days to handle peaceably and they have to be considered favorites for the three-game series on their own field this week-end. They massacred the Philadelphia Athletics 13-2 and 10-1 with a couple of secondary pitchers and had Buck Newsom ready to oppose Mel Harder today.

Rookie Wins

In their first game with the A's, Rookie Floyd Gehlbil issued eight scattered hits while Detroit got 13, including homers by Hank Greenberg and Rudy York, each of whom batted in five runs. In the second game Dizzy Trout gave only four hits and the Tigers collected 13, including homers by York and Pete Fox.

This made 17 consecutive games in which Detroit had hit one or more home runs.

Cleveland was outlived 8-6 and needed the help of a couple of Washington errors to beat the Senators 3-1 and keep a share of the lead. Lefty Al Smith pitched shutout ball except for a home run by Johnny Wells, but it was apparent the Tribe hasn't anything resembling the power of the Tigers.

Close In All Ways

The closeness of the struggle is further illustrated by the fact that Detroit and Cleveland have divided 16 games this year.

From the veteran Tigers and the younger Indians came the word that they are well conditioned for the big test, Detroit has Louis (Buck) Newsom, Lynnwood Rowe and Tommy Bridges (three hurlers the Indians haven't beaten this season) ready to work in order. Cleveland will retaliate with Mel Harder, Al Milnar and Bobby Feller. Feller, a mystery to other clubs, has been beaten three times by Detroit.

Tiger officials predicted an at-

National league. Fiddler Bill McGee gave just five hits in the first game and Johnny Mize led a 14-hit offensive to capture the nightcap.

NO. 20 FOR BIG PAUL

Club	W	L	Pct.	GB	TP
Cincinnati	83	61	.572	0	0
Philadelphia	80	64	.556	4	0
Washington	79	67	.541	6	0
St. Louis	78	68	.529	7	0
Chicago	77	69	.524	8	0
Boston	72	74	.489	13	0
New York	64	74	.463	20	0
Boston	64	74	.463	20	0
Philadelphia	46	97	.322	48	0

Tribe Is Hot

Cleveland has won nine of its last 12 games, and two of the three contests dropped were lost by one run. But the Indians' runs have been few compared with those of the heavy-hitting Tigers, who scored 43 in their last four games.

The Indians moved to Detroit for the crucial test after Southpaw Al Smith's victory over knuckleballer Leonard gave them a sweep of their three-game series with Washington and a total of 13 wins in 22 games against the Senators this season.

Red Ruffing showed some of his old form in spacing seven hits as the Yanks overpowered the White Sox 10-1 with a 14-hit bombardment. The only run he, too, gave up was a homer—by Joe Kuhel.

The St. Louis Browns beat the Boston Red Sox 2-1 on Roy Cullenbine's triple with two on in the seventh.

DETROIT, Sept. 30—Hoots and jeers—and at least one over-ripe tomato—greeted the Cleveland Indians on their arrival here for the crucial series with the Detroit Tigers.

A self-appointed welcoming committee of approximately 200 youths swarmed around the players as they left their train, and followed them to their hotel. A tomato struck "Lefty" Wiseman, Cleveland trainer.

Singing "Rock-a-bye-baby-in-the-tree-top" the boys threatened to stand beneath the windows all night and keep the Indians awake, but a few well-placed "water bombs"—paper bags filled with water—dropped from the upper stories and police moved in to disperse the crowd.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

Morning After

"I JUST wanted to pick up some personal things," Constance said, quietly.

She thought, as she put gown, robe, slippers and fresh clothing in her bag, that she couldn't very well insult guests by demanding her room. She'd reach an understanding with Donna later.

Stopping at the office, she put her books into the bag, then threaded the crowd that seemed to think she was dressed in a costume, and went up the hill.

Meg was in the kitchen. "Heaven preserve us," she greeted. "What brings you here?"

"May I sleep on the couch in your room? It's a mad-house down there."

"That you can. Had your supper?"

Constance shook her head.

"Peter will be glad of company. Pedro is going down to the party, so I'll be the two of you, alone."

Constance perched on a chair behind the wood stove, heels caught on the top rungs, chin in hand, watching Meg make dumplings for the Irish stew. She was thinking, "If I were the right sort I'd be down there, mixing with the crowd, having a good time...." and, she admitted, "counting the cost of every bottle of wine, every sandwich, and worrying over the men not getting to bed so they'd be ready for their work in the morning."

"On my way, Meg," Pedro shouted from the door.

Constance put a finger to her lips as Meg looked from her to the departing Pedro.

Peter Taylor was glad of company. He greeted Constance jovially.

"You certainly stole the show this afternoon," he boomed. "I don't know when I've ever laughed so hard."

"I didn't mean to," said Constance contritely. "And I'm just sick over the lumber people being angry about it."

"Angry?" cried Taylor. "They're as pleased as punch. Those city cameramen got the shots of their lives while Pancho was trying to climb the Golden Stairs and you were riding horizontal. They'll use every foot of the film, where they'd only use a single shot of the affair, that was planned; best advertising in the country."

"Oh," said Constance weakly. "Then... then they know I didn't do it on purpose?"

Peter Taylor studied her a moment with wide old eyes. "Rot," he spat. "Any man who'd ever thrown a leg over a saddle would know you didn't have a chance to hold Pancho. They count it a miracle and damn' good horse-manship that you were still on top when Pancho reached the quay."

"And," he added, "don't let anyone tell you differently."

After dinner Pedersen came in and the three of them sat before the fire discussing ranch problems.

"How long is this going to keep on?" Pedersen asked Constance. "Isn't there any way we can control the men?"

"Queer Biped!"

"Well," mused Taylor, "I could, I mean I could demand they stick to their jobs but," and he shook his head, "we wouldn't have dependable workmen. You see, they didn't want the place turned into a dairy farm in the first place. The... the Cabrillos are indifferent to the success of the place, evidently, and allow Julian full control. It's what the old reprobate has been wanting."

"But I thought that Miss Cabrillo here was in charge. And she is a Cabrillo."

"No," corrected Taylor, "she isn't. She's a throwback. She's one of these queer bipeds who can't enjoy themselves until all of the bills are paid." He chuckled. "She was in charge as long as the rest of the family didn't care enough about the ranch to interfere."

"But don't let that worry you, Carl," he advised. "A few months of this and I'll own the place."

Constance stood up. "Peter Taylor, you're..."

"Rather," he play under-cover, "Michael," he asked.

"No," she returned carefully. "I don't. But you haven't won yet. And I'm going to see this through. Good night."

But instead of going to Meg's room she slipped out of the house, went down to saddle Pancho and rode out across the ranch. Even here in the hills, you could hear echoes of the revelry below, see the lights shining as though a bit of the Milky Way had dropped to splash its scintillating glory on El Cabrillo.

The moon came up as she crossed the summit, and enchantment, lonely enchantment, lay over the inner valley.

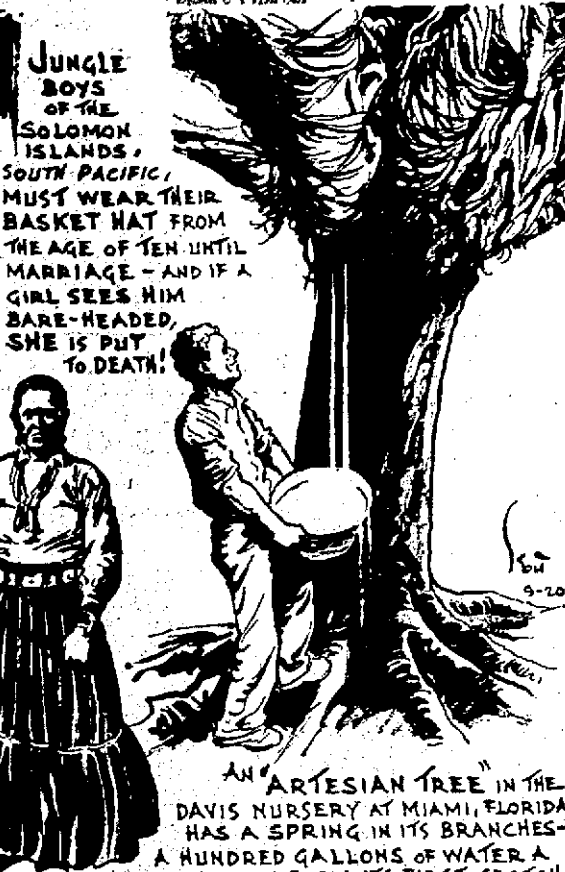

Only Cardozo was at the out-riding post. With faulty Spanish and many gestures, Constance made it clear she intended to sleep in Maria's guest room; and Cardozo, candle in hand, led the way and bowed her into it.

Constance crept into the goose-feather ticking, and sat, hands clasped over her knees, watching the wavering silhouette of Eucalyptus leaves on the wall.

Carefully she went over the principals in this drama of hers: Pedro, John, the Cabrillos, Peter and Pedersen. Not one of them was with her. Pedro wanted the place the easy way... her mind insisted this was so, denying the crying plea of her heart. John wanted the place, he did not want her to have it unless he was included. The Cabrillos would skim the cream of her efforts and part, leaving her nothing. Peter expected to gain the place through her failure. Pedersen didn't care who had it, as long as he was left to solve the problem of its efficiency.

And what did El Cabrillo want? She thought of the ranch, its indolent acres spread over the coast. What had John said of it, months ago? "A profitable, racial, romantic, inconsistent, a veritable Don Juan."

It was!

And Pedro was its incarnation. Everyone touched by the charm of either the ranch or Pedro, wanted possession.

No one could yet claim either Pedro or the ranch. And forgetting Pedro, what chance had she of winning the ranch?

Pedersen wanted four men; four men at fifty dollars a month and keep. Two hundred dollars and a housing problem.

Young Michael Mahoney bargained with tradition. Four former El Cabrillo riders must go. She needed their cottage. Taylor had the authority to fire them. It would serve as a warning to the others.

Angry Turnoff!

She thought of other things, the young fields responding to plough, seed, rain and sunshine in wanton fashion.

"Bumper crop," Pedersen had said. "Our feed bill will be cut in half this winter."

Constance rode back to the ranch the next morning to find it in an angry turmoil over her disappearance. Pedro, eyed her with contempt. "One way to focus the spotlight on yourself," he had said.

John met her, face white, eyes sheened with silver. "I don't believe I deserve this, Constance."

"Can't take it, eh?" asked Peter Taylor, and laughed harshly.

"You would try to spoil our fun," chorused Don and Donna.

Only Meg, following her into the stable, took her in warm arms. "Never mind, pete," she soothed. "You'll be ridin' above them yet, the blind fools!"

Constance didn't mind. She had grown another layer of resistance during that night. She faced the people who condemned her, with cool, impersonal eyes. And she spent an hour in the cemetery, seated at the foot of the defiant shaft, strengthening her heart and her resolutions.

A lull followed the fiesta. The houseguests were carried to beschopt in cars and station wagon, and Constance enjoyed her room... and with the understanding it would never again be used for guests without her consent.

There was a scene when the papers were brought to the ranch and Constance found herself and Pancho occupying the front page of all of them; a scene that nearly defeated her.

She had left the dinner table abruptly, pausing to say, "I didn't plan it. Anyone who knows anything about horses knows that. However, Donna, you tried to cheat me out of my place, and cheating always acts as a boom-erang."

Donna rode with Pedro. Constance saw them at all hours, and laughed whenever she saw them. Donna had to maneuver to meet Pedro, to arrange meetings, but Constance understood. Pedro was smart. He wasn't going to let Donna know what he wanted, as he'd let her know.

Her scene with John was the most difficult because John was kind and understanding. It was almost impossible to be cruel to kindness.

John came to her office one afternoon, face set.

"Taylor refuses to be bought out in any way," he stated. "I'm not surprised," Constance returned, and wished, for the millionth time, that she had said nothing to Taylor that night.

"I suppose you're pleased," John flashed.

"Yes and no," Constance answered. "I'm glad because I know what he wants and it's easier to fight conditions you know. I asked you for the right to win this place on my own ability. Had Taylor sold out and you stepped in as manager, I'd have had very little to say about the place."

"You believe I would fight you, Conchita?" he asked sadly.

"No John, you don't fight. You take. You're like the Cabrillos; you accept everything as your just due. Only, unlike the Cabrillos, you pay for it. You'd pay my part too, and I don't want that."

40 et 8 Boxcar and Locomotive in National Contest

The 40 et 8 box car and locomotive, 1940 state champion, are scheduled to leave today on the first trip in its history in search of national honors at the American Legion convention in Boston.

The Legionnaires making the round trip to Massachusetts hope only that they will earn one notch better than they did at the 1939 national convention. Last year they carried away second prize.

The Marion outfit has a good chance of winning a national title, since it recently has the Ohio title for the best outfit of any type, won at Toledo recently.

Since the Toledo convention, the little French type vehicle has been put in first-class condition for the national contest.

To Compete Monday

The Marion outfit will compete for the national title Monday afternoon in the national 40 et 8 parade and will also appear in the regular Legion parade on Tuesday.

The Marionites probably will be back home Friday night of next week.

In charge of plans for the trip is Police Chief William E. Marks, chairman of the box car committee. L. M. Eikenberry is chief of parade or head man of the Marion County Voiture of 40 et 8, the Legion organization which owns the box car. The name 40 et 8, incidentally, comes from the fact that French box cars, which haul American soldiers during the world war, had the words on the side "40 Hommes, 8 Chevaux," meaning the capacity was 40 men or 8 horses.

In Group To Make Trip

Making the trip in the box car will be James Divney, William Arndt, John Dutton, Ed Harold, Frank Bowe, M. D. Shaffer, E. J. Nesper and Chief Marks. Several other members of the voiture are planning to go to Boston by automobile or train including Keith Ridgway of LaRue, Dr. H. A. Hoopes of near LaRue, national 40 et 8 auditor, and Glen Allen.

Despite the fact that the Marion outfit is believed to be one of the best models of the French engines and cars, it failed to win a prize at the Toledo convention for "French type" entries.

Modeled After French Car

The Marion car was modeled on plans for a French car obtained by D. J. MacDonald of the Marion county voiture, which should make it a fairly close reproduction.

Nothing has been spared in making the outfit one of the best in the nation. Chief Marks estimates there is more than $1,500 in hard cash in the vehicle, plus hundreds of hours of work and considerable donated material. If you wanted to buy it, you'd need something more than $5,000.

The history of the train dates back to 1932 and 1933 when the first work was started. The box car was completed in 1934 and the engine was in running condition the next year. However, since then outfit has been remodeled until it doesn't even look like its former self.

The locomotive is powered with a Lincoln V-8 engine (made of parts of two engines) on a Lincoln chassis. The engine is powerful, and it has to be in order to pull the 15,400-pound outfit.

Cruises at 35

The train usually cruises at about 35 miles an hour, but has been known to hit 55 on a straight-away.

The device is equipped with air brakes, which are so designed that even if the engine stops there will be enough vacuum to hold the outfit on a hill. At least the Legionnaires hope so, for they'll hit some hilly country between here and Boston.

Another unusual safety feature is a special type of hitch between the engine and box car. It will hold the two parts together on the steepest hill and sharpest curve.

Just for the effect, the locomotive has a smoke-generating device which will roll clouds of white smoke out of the stack. It is possible a red light may be inserted somewhere to color the smoke red at night.

For use only in parades are the long bars which fit on the wheels of the locomotive and simulate action of valves.

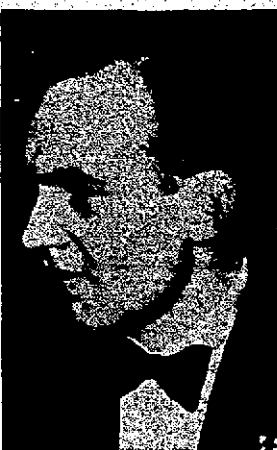

The box car is equipped with 12 bunks and there is even space for cooking meals if some of the men decide to take along a camp stove.

Operated by flashlight batteries, running lights for small boats have been invented that can be clamped to sides of craft.

DATE SET FOR P.-T.A. ANNUAL TAG DAY

Proceeds To Be Used at Free Clinic in Hospital

Saturday, Sept. 28, is the date set for the annual tag day sponsored by the Parent-Teacher units of the city in the interest of the free clinic at the Marion City hospital. The units, headed by the Marion City Council of the P.-T.A. obligates itself, together with other groups in the city, to maintain the clinic for the less fortunate residents of the city.

The week of Sept. 23, which has been designated by Gov. Bricker as Parent-Teacher Week, and the tag day, will officially launch the P.-T.A. work in the city. The 13 units which form the city council headed by Mrs. Damon Spicer, council chairman, and each of the unit membership chairmen, will launch a membership drive during the Parent-Teacher week.

Last year Ohio enrolled nearly 170,000 members, according to the state report.

MENTION POLK FOR LEADER

Ohioan May Get House Post Vacated by Rayburn from Texas.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The name of Rep. James G. Polk of Highland, O., has been mentioned for consideration in the selection of a Democratic majority leader of the house of representatives.

Ohioans, seeking recognition for their politically important state, suggested that Polk was in line for the honor in the light of developments which followed the elevation of Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas from the leadership to speaker to succeed the late William B. Bankhead of Alabama.

Developments included:

1. Proposals that the Democrats name a leader to serve only during the remainder of the current session of congress.
2. A sharp division of northerners and southerners over filling the post, with northern members insisting that one of their number get the office.

Ohioans said Polk would be a desirable choice especially if a temporary leader were named since he was retiring voluntarily on Jan. 1 after ten years service in the house. They added that Polk's election also would be an appropriate farewell gesture on the part of his colleagues.

Buckeye representatives along with others of the midwest contended that since the speakership went to Rayburn, a southerner, the leadership logically should go to the north, if not the east. Polk did not announce his candidacy for the office.

Rep. Martin J. Kennedy (D-NY) invited Ohio members to attend a caucus of northern and western members on the question, declaring that "failure to give recognition to big northern, western or eastern states might have some effect on the elections for the Democrats."

Ohio representatives said Polk's house record would obviate any controversy as between Democrats of different views on national questions. They noted that while he had not adhered strictly to all administration proposals, he had supported most of them since President Roosevelt took office in 1933.

Polk came to the house in 1930, the first Democrat elected to congress from the sixth Ohio district. He announced several months ago that he believed ten years in congress was long enough and that he would retire. He was graduated from Wittenberg college in 1923.

and taught school before embarking on a public career.

The most interesting person in the world to most folks is the one they see in the mirror.

I like to have the sewin' circle meet at my house so I can be sure the tea I'm going to drink is good, honest-to-gosh LIPTON'S TEA. Just a whiff of LIPTON'S brewing in the pot and I start in to purr.

Allen Clark tells me that gettin' one of those single-serve cups, when everybody sits up front, didn't interfere a mite with Mrs. Clark's back-seat drivin'.

I hear tell even the rich summer colony folks figure out a food budget, these days. But figurin' never interferes with anybody enjoyin' LIPTON'S TEA, for it figures to last less than half-cent a cup!
